FREE SYSTEM PACK

The 5 systems that run my business.

Clients have paid $5K to $8K for installs built on these. You can have them free. Five employees, one director, 1 to 2 hours of my time a week.

5 systems, one department | $5K-$8K per install | 1-2 hrs/week of my time

Everyone's sharing 99 Claude commands. You need about five. Each one does a job I used to do by hand, loaded with my real numbers, my real clients, my real voice first. That's the difference. Not the wording, the setup behind it.

SYSTEM 01

Also known as: find the winner

The Scout

Watches 24 top accounts in my niche. Flags only the posts that beat their own author's average by 3x or more. I never stare at a blank page.

SYSTEM 02

Also known as: write it as me

The Copywriter

Rewrites a proven post using my real numbers and my real stories. Keeps a fact bank, so it never invents anything. When it doesn't know something, it asks me first.

SYSTEM 03

Also known as: make the picture

The Designer

Turns finished copy into a branded graphic or a short video. The same job the original post's visual was doing, rebuilt in my brand.

SYSTEM 04

Also known as: build the free thing

The Magnet Builder

Reads the post and works out what free thing it should hand over. If that thing doesn't exist yet, it builds it.

SYSTEM 05

Also known as: pick who to talk to

The Outreach Scout

Gives me a shortlist of exactly the owners I want to work with each week. I connect and start the conversations myself. That part stays human.

That's the whole department. Five employees, one director, 1 to 2 hours of my time a week. I built it for my own business first. It runs every week whether I feel like posting or not.

The test that matters

If you handed one of these prompts to a competitor, would it work exactly as well for them? If yes, it isn't doing anything for you. It's a search query with extra steps.

The five above are boring on their own. Loaded with your real business first, they replace most of a content team.

> Don't collect 99 prompts. Build 5 that only work for you.
